THE MINING CLASS IS BEING EXAMINED

E. QUINN RESIGNS FROM BOARD

Construction Placed on Law Causes Shortage of One Man on Board of Examiners—Repairs Being Made to Central Hotel—Others News Notes.

SCOTSDALE, April 10.—Candidates for certificates for mine foremen and firebosses are being examined this week in the hall in the Litcher & Graft building. The mine foremen's examination began yesterday and lasts three days, with the fourth day devoted to the firebosses. There are only two members on the examining board this year instead of three as usual and it is said that this condition is all through the region. It is due to the construction placed upon the mining laws that the number of the board representing the miners must be a miner actually engaged in the occupation of mining, and a mine foreman. He must work in a gasless mine, it is said, not one nominally so, but a mine that is gasless. Just what would be done in a district where there is no gasless mine to comply with this condition is problematical, according to the miners, but some one might be brought in from another place. The miner must also have been engaged in mining for 10 years.

Edward Quinn of Newmont, a mine foreman for the Erie company, has resigned from the board on this account, and the examination is being carried on by State Mine Inspector D. R. Blawie and Samuel J. Lohr, the latter representing the operators. Those being examined are: Martin O'Leahill, Andrew Shadley, Edward Gibbons, William H. Grindie, Samuel Queen, James A. Baldwin, Joseph T. Eversen, Charles Seighman and George T. Blair, all of Mt. Pleasant; John Brown and Joseph W. Petroskey, Calumet; Thomas E. Keeler, and Robert J. Keelin, Mammoth; John Price and William Kelly, Trauer; Robert L. Hill, Scottdale; Charles A. Jones, Stauffer; Robert S. Bush, Pleasant Unity; Charles P. Burns and Robert C. Cramer, South West; Frank Iulian, Greensburg; R. E. D. No. 6; J. T. Hayden, Greensburg; R. E. D. No. 7; Martin Ryan and J. O. Reed, Tarrs.

DUSTY STREETS. People are going about this morning with sore eyes and the appearance of having severe colds, the result of the dust storm that swept over town yesterday, and which got in their work on account of the filthy condition of the main streets. The dust and dirt has collected on the streets all winter and what is needed now is a thorough flushing with the hose. This would also prove beneficial to the water supply if the mains were flushed out. The rain today modified the unsanitary conditions somewhat, but they will revive as soon as the dry weather comes on again.

IN PITTSBURGH. About a score of Scottdale people went to Pittsburgh last night to attend the Roosevelt meeting, which they assert was one of the greatest demonstrations ever held in that city. First came out last night, leaving early and coming from Greensburg on the last West Penn car. Others came out to Greensburg this morning and were joined by a number who went to that town leaving here on the 8:30 car.

TO WASHINGTON. Delbert Leichter and family of the Narrows above Broad Ford, left yesterday for the State of Washington where they will make their future home on a farm they have purchased in that state.

IS OUT AGAIN. T. W. Porter of Porter & Stoner, the general merchants, was able to be down town yesterday after several days' illness at his home on Chestnut street.

LIBRE FROM MONSIEUR. Elias Cunningham, a prominent business man of Monessen, has been spending a few days here with old friends.

TO THE SPRINGS. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Parker, Mrs. N. E. Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Harriet Ruff of Mt. Pleasant left this morning for Cambridge Springs where they will remain for some weeks.

CLEANING RUINS. Workmen are cleaning up the ruins of the fire on Pittsburg street and Michael Kelly will get ready to make improvements to the Central Hotel, which was damaged by fire.

Physicians Delighted by What New Tonic, Tona Vita, Has Done.

Tired out, run-down half sick people are no longer as they were a year ago. "Tona Vita" the great modern tonic has proved as successful in the United States as in Europe, and many thousands of Americans have been built up and restored to health by this medicine.

"I have had no opportunity to take sufficient rest and during the past year this has told on me. My nerves began to trouble me. I have not been sleeping well and my appetite and digestion were not as they should be. I tired easily and did not have the vitality to withstand a hard day's work as formerly. This tonic 'Tona Vita' was recommended to me and I decided to give it a test. I have been greatly benefited in health and strength by this medicine. I sincerely believe the tonic to be highly meritorious judging from my own experience."

Do you lack strength and vitality? Do you take cold easily and sleep poorly? Are you nervous and depressed? If so you are a sufferer from nervous debility and you should at once get a bottle of Tona Vita and see how quickly it will build you up.

FOLKS PAST FIFTY MUST USE CASCARETS

What Glasses Are to Weak Eyes, Cascarets Are to Weak Bowels. A 10c Box Will Truly Amuse You.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, also they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscular.

No old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is gentle and natural tone. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tone is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

CHAPTER XV.

Billings' Symptoms Alarm Me.

"Most infernal outrage of the century, I tell you!" Billings stormed. For an hour I had sat there in my room, limp and bewildered under the tempo of his wrath. The wild and incoherent sputter over the phone that Jenkins reported upon my return had sent me on a hunt for my friend. I had found him sullenly dialing alone over at the club, and as soon as I entered he started to bolt from the room. Only through the greatest pleading had I managed to coax him back to my chambers, hoping I might secure out of him some explanation.

I had feared it, by Jove! Of course, I recalled it all as impossible and crazy, you know, but when I said so to Billings his remarks were so violent, and he turned such a dangerous apoplectic purple, dashed if I didn't renege.

"But then the old man, you know!" I protested weakly.

Billings leveled his big arm at me, muttering wordlessly for a minute.

"That—that'll do, about that old man!" he choked at last. "Not—not another word about him!" And then he collapsed into his seat from sheer exhaustion. Just as there panting and gasping at me like a jolly bulldog.

Gradually he became calmer.

"Tell you what: the only thing that lets you out, Dicky, is the way Van Dyne and Blakeley did, in turn, when I got them there."

He spoke savagely, but I brightened a little.

"Oh," I said. "Didn't they recognize you, either?"

Billings snort made me jump.

"Recognize!" he bellowed. "They went back, mad as hell!"

"By Jove!" I said soothingly.

"That's not all," continued Billings grimly. "I was so sure it was a put-up job, some astute, foot joke, I wrote a cautious note to the governor. After a lot of pleading, I got the fools to send it. He came."

Billings paused dramatically.

"Oh, yes," he continued, went on, fixing me with an excited eye. "And when I staggered forward and did the prodigious act not on his neck, he handed me a punch that jolted off his silk tie. Went straight up in the air with the whole bunch down there and contracted to do things for them that will keep them active for a year. Threatened to have me sent up for forgery—this is my own father now, mind you—forgery of my own name!"

Billings strode to the end of the room and back. Then he sat down again, beating with his foot upon the floor.

"They were pretty nasty after that," Billings went on gleefully. "and they wouldn't send for any one else. Just had to sit there in that infernal bustle with nothing on but pajamas and a pair of bedroom slippers. Every once in a while somebody would come and address me as 'Foxey' and want me to send for my clothes or else send out and buy some. Finally, a big brute came and threw me some dirty rage and said I'd have to put on those or else buy some others."

"And I had just got into the togs and started the rubies and pajamas out of sight in my pocket, when the particular brigand who had charge of my coat came back. He almost threw a fit when he saw me. 'Where's Twenty-seven?' he wanted to know. And then, before I could say a word, he blustered up to me with: 'And say, what business you got in here? Clear out!' And you bet I didn't lose a single golden button—I cleared. You should have seen me beat it down that corridor! The fellow followed me a little, grumbling to himself. Then he called to a cop who was just coming in: 'Say, O'Keefe, run that young fat freak out of here, will you? It's one of that bunch of visitors that went through just now. Dress thing—sneoping into the cells!'

"And so the same cop that brought me there—the very same—was the one that shoved me out of the door, warning me that I'd best not go poking into the prisoner's cells again if I knew what was good for me."

"By the way, old chap," puffed Billings, his pose and good humor improving under the spell of a cigar, "I was sorry to return the pajamas torn and dusty and wrinkled as they were. But you see, on account of the rubies, I was leary about having them pressed or fused over. So I wrapped and sealed them myself, just as one does a jewel package. Got them, did you?"

I stared at Billings through my glass.

"Didn't you get them?" he questioned in alarm.

"Yes, yes—all right, old chap," I said hastily and as pleasantly as I could. "Eugene delivered the box to Jenkins and I opened it myself. Thought it was—b'm—thought it was something else." Then I proceeded soothingly: "But you're just a little mistaken about the dust and wrinkles, old chap—and about them being torn. Ha, ha! Good joke!"

But Billings' face was unresponsive.

"Why, old chap," he said with cheerful contempt, "there's a triangular tear in the back of the coat you could stick your head through; and one of the sleeves is in ribbons."

I just opened the drawer of the table and took out the box—glove box, I think it was—containing the pajamas. I had read something somewhere about the clearing effect—the reaction, and that sort of thing, produced sometimes by a shock.

"See for yourself, old chap," I said gently. And I lifted out the gossamer fabric and again spread their crimson glory under the lamp. Billings examined them eagerly, but just looked confounded.

"Don't understand it," he said, biting his nails. "Why, hang it, they look smooth, too, as though never worn. And the rubies are all right, too."

He rested his chin upon his hands and gloomed at the red sweep.

I caught a few sentences of his mumbling.

"By George, I'm half a mind to think there's something in the pajamas," he muttered—"something uncanny and disagreeable—something they're alive with!"

I sprang up and back, overturning my chair.

"Good heavens—oh, I say!" I exclaimed in consternation, as I fixed my glass on the garments. "It's your fault, then, you know—"

And suddenly I made a discovery; and I forgot about keeping still.

"By Jove, Billings!" I exclaimed excitedly. "Here's something inside the collar—some sort of jolly writing!"

"What's that?" said Billings sharply. I recoiled the garment from my hand and held it in the light. All round the circle within the collar band ran four or five darker red lines of queer little crisscross characters.

"Chinese laundry marks, you idiot," he commented carelessly. And then he ducked his head closer with a quick intake of breath.

"By George, Dicky!" he cried, his voice tremulous with some excitement. "Can't be that either; it's woven in—awfully fine, neat job, too. Now, what do you suppose—"

He broke off wondering.

To Be Continued.

BLOCKADED.

Every Household in Connellsville Should Know How to Resist It.

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked.

It helps the kidneys with their work.

The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from this locality.

Mrs. Thomas M. Eber, 161 Connellsville street, Connettsville, Pa., says:

"For several years I was in poor health and I now believe that disordered kidneys caused my suffering. My back ached most of the time and my right side was always lame and sore. I always felt depressed and sometimes spots appeared before my eyes, making it almost impossible for me to see. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice I began their use and I am glad to say that they did me a world of good. I most heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."—(Statement given October 4, 1907.)

A LASTING REMEDY.

When Mrs. Eber was interviewed on October 11, 1909, she added to the above: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly. They effected a permanent cure in my case and I have had no need of a kidney remedy during the past two years."

A. A. CLARKE GUARANTEES RHEUMA FOR RHEUMATISM

What chance does any sufferer take when RHEUMA is guaranteed to banish rheumatism, lumbago, joint and kidney ailments, or money back?

Why not investigate this offer? Talk to A. A. Clarke about it. RHEUMA surely does drive rheumatic poison from the system, brings swollen joints back to normal and relieves agony in two or three days.

People so crippled with rheumatism that they could not walk have been absolutely freed from the iron grasp of the demon, rheumatism, with less than half a dozen 50-cent bottles. A few hours after the first dose, RHEUMA begins to dissolve the uric acid and drive it from the body through the natural channels.

Everyone can afford RHEUMA—the price is only 60 cents a bottle, and the dose is small.

SUNDAY BASEBALL IS THE SALVATION OF O. & P. LEAGUE

Five Teams in Organization Can Play Games on That Day—The Waiting List.

Sunday baseball is going to prove a great factor in the success of the Ohio & Pennsylvania League this year. Five teams in the league can play Sunday and the schedule was drafted with the end in view to have every Sunday date in the season filled. Connellsville, McKeesport and New Castle are the only teams that cannot play Sunday. Connellsville has 11 Sunday dates on the road, New Castle 15 and McKeesport 13. Reports emanating from Sharon state that the league now has a waiting list for the first time, meaning that Uniontown, Beaver, Falls and Massillon want a chance to break in. This might be true of the two last named towns but Uniontown has proved itself a dead one as far as baseball is concerned.

Salem under the guiding hand of Hugh Shannon, is known as the "Quakers."

Hugh Shannon is Irish and evidently a believer in the playing qualities of his countrymen. On his roster appear the names of Mack, Bradley, Conway, Conroy, O'Brien, Barry, McGlockey, Walsh, Griffin, McCarty and others.

J. J. McGrath, owner of the McKeesport Tubers, is in New York City, lining his men up to report when the training season opens.

William Humphrey, the former Scottsdale pitcher, is either a holdout or doesn't want to play at Wheeling. Manager "Gut" Anderson has heard nothing from the California scout since.

Built Durham, the home run cloutier with Fairmont in the Pawva League, has been selected for the clean up berth on the Wheeling team of the Central League.

Manager Hugh Shannon of Salem, announces that he has signed an outfielder Jack McCloskey of Kingston, N. Y. Last season McCloskey played with the Newburgh, N. Y. club and was considered a star in every respect. He formerly played in the Connecticut League as a member of the Waterbury and Springfield clubs. McCloskey is 24 years old and weighs 170 pounds.

Advertising that every team in the league shall be permitted to carry as many men as it cares to, but keeping under the $1,200 limit. Manager W. C. Wilson will write President Travis today. Wilson thinks he can carry 11 players and still keep under the limit and says that the limit of 12 players is an injustice.

R. E. Groff, a third baseman from Berlin, will be given a tryout this spring with the Cobles.

Owensdale.

OWENSDALE, April 10.—Much interest is being manifested in the Morgan valley in the newly organized Scottsdale baseball team as many of the players of the Morgan team are members of the Scottsdale team. Many of the players have had chances to play with other teams in the coke region, being offered lucrative positions at the works and two have been offered contracts to layout for professional company but have refused these offers to play with the Scottsdale team, which speaks well of the faith they have in the organization. Frank DeWalt was calling at Mt. Pleasant recently. Benny Miller of Connellsville, was attending to matters of business in Owensdale Monday. Mr. Olive Luth of Morgan Station, was calling on Scottsdale friends Monday.
